Oh! I screwed up on my last review, giving thoughts on The Reed Flute for The Girl on the Train. Oh, well - couldn't undo, so there it is. As for Seven, I found the play to be moving. I am thinking of using it in my university course on International Human Rights in the fall.

The seven playwrights give an extraordinary look at seven female activists from different countries. SEVEN presents individual voices in a collective way.

Very well written, but just so depressing it was hard to get through. Important reading. Really sad.
